

Toxins are all around us, and we don't even realize it! Exposure to toxins and chemicals burden the body by being absorbed through the skin, swallowed, and inhaled. Since daily exposure is unavoidable, the best defense is detoxification. Eliminating toxins will renew functioning of the detoxification organs and elimination pathways, improve circulation to clear wastes, and accelerate restoration of health.

Everyone can benefit from detoxification, especially when dealing with chronic health conditions. Many diseases are directly related to the body's inability to clear out toxins. You do not need to have symptoms to be a good candidate to detoxify. It may take years for symptoms to first appear, once the body's ability to compensate is exhausted.

Give your body the best chance to remain symptom-free. Detox once to twice a year (in the Spring and/or Fall) with the new Nestmann Pharma Detox Kit.

The Nestmann Detox Kit provides the foundation for achieving optimal health. This simple and easy-to-use kit will jump-start the detoxification process. With effective detox remedies targeting the liver, gallbladder, intestines, kidney and lymphatic system, this kit will successfully eliminate toxins and waste.
