

pH Structured Silver
A New Standard For Today's Colloidal Silver

pH Structured Silver uses proprietary technology to produce a pure, safe, bioavailable, and effective form of silver - one of the best on the market. It is manufactured in a cGMP facility with over 130 Standard Operating Procedures that must be followed and has been approved by Health Canada for its safety when taken as directed.

pH Structured Silver Looks, Smells, And Tastes Like Water

That is because it is 99.9970% molecularly structured water with 0.0030% silver nanoparticles. The advanced manufacturing technique used led to the creation of this new form of colloidal silver with enhanced performance and safety. It has only the 2 ingredients and is free of additives, preservatives, or any other artificial ingredients.

pH Structured Silver Has A Mild Alkalinity

pH Structured Silver liquid is formulated to have a mild alkaline pH level of 7.3 - 7.5, making it optimal for performance at the cellular level. It also has other specific characteristics including a specific size, electron configuration, magnetic resonance, magnetic signature and structuring effect on the water molecules.

TOP 5 REASONS TO USE THE NEW pH STRUCTURED SILVER

- Structured. A new methodology of combining energetically structured water and silver nanoparticles has produced an advanced form of colloidal silver with improved molecular structure.
- Faster. Studies show structured silver's performance is enhanced due to its low surface tension and high zeta potential for optimal absorption and utilization by the body.
- Alkaline. pH Structured Silver liquid is formulated to have a mild base that is ideal for everyday use with the body.
- Documented. pH Structured Silver has Health Canada Class III Natural Product Numbers for the liquid and the gel, which are made in an FDA-inspected pharmaceutical facility in the United States.
- Analyzed. Epigenetic analysis was performed on wounded skin tissues treated with pH Structured Silver. Of the 88 genes widely recognized in wound healing, 59 of them showed results of strong upregulation of genes influencing skin barrier development, antimicrobial and immune response coupled with strong down regulation of genes influencing inflammatory actions indicating expedited wound healing.

pH STRUCTURED SILVER A NEW STANDARD FOR TODAY'S COLLOIDAL SILVER

Silver is well known for its antibacterial, antifungal, antiviral and antiparasitic qualities. It has been produced in a wide variety of forms over the years with variations in concentration, purity, stability, and colloid size. But there are several factors that make pH Structured Silver different from other colloidal silvers.

Composition refers to the ingredients of a substance or mixture, whereas structure refers to the way those ingredients are arranged. While composition and structure are related, they are not the same. The same is true with colloidal silver.

pH Structured Silver utilizes structured water which changes it structurally and gives it unique properties. It has a specific nanoparticle size, electron configuration, magnetic resonance, and pH level.

By having each silver molecule permanently bound to an H₂O molecule, its high zeta potential ensures the silver will not fall out of solution, making it safe for daily use. The incorporation of structured water not only adds additional documented health benefits, but it also creates a liquid with an exceptionally low dyne count, making it the best conduit for quick absorption.

The years of research and development invested to create this industry-leading technology led to the creation of pH Structured Silver.
